Conferences and resources: international education and educational research

The 28th Australian International Education Conference: Inventing the future is being held in Brisbane from 7th-10th October. The preliminary program is now available at http://aiec.idp.com, Registrations are open, and if you need to make a case for attending there are some handy hints on the website.

140 records have been added to the IDP Database of Research on International Education for May-July 2014. Browse the new additions here.

New reports, articles, books and theses are listed as discovered at http://twitter.com/IDPDRIE

And if you are interested in the views of an 'international academic' you might like to follow this link for an article on the topic.

AARE and NZARE 2014 national conference: Speaking back through research will be held at the Queensland University of Technology, Brisbane from Sunday 30 November to Thursday 4 December.

AARE and NZARE are national associations for fostering educational research in Australia and New Zealand. This conference will facilitate contact between educational researchers and support the development of high quality educational research.
