National Senior Teaching Fellowships

National Senior Teaching Fellowships are awarded to outstanding scholars who are respected leaders in learning and teaching in higher education. National Senior Teaching Fellows undertake a significant program of fellowship activities, contribute to various OLT events and develop national and international networks appropriate to the Fellowship activities.

National Senior Teaching Fellows are expected to establish a collaborative team of internationally recognised scholars and to lead an extended seminar as part of their Fellowship program.

National Senior Teaching Fellows will normally be expected to be released from all or most academic activities for one year.
Up to 4 National Senior Teaching Fellowships are available in 2015.

Maximum funding available for each National Senior Teaching Fellowship is $250,000.

National Teaching Fellowships

National Teaching Fellows are prominent scholars in their disciplinary fields, recognised by their home institutions for their capacity to make significant contributions to educational leadership into the future. They are normally early or mid-career academics engaged in the scholarly practice of learning and teaching in higher education. National Teaching Fellows undertake a short program of activities over the course of nine to twelve months, addressing an identified learning and teaching issue within their institution or discipline, with the goal of enhancing disciplinary or inter-disciplinary teaching and learning within their institution, and beyond.

Up to 6 National Teaching Fellowships are available in 2015.

Maximum total funding available for each National Teaching Fellowship is $90,000.

Nominations for a 2015 fellowship close on Monday 2 February 2015
