TEACHING @ SYDNEY

March 2015

Dialogues with Sydney's Distinguished Teachers

This new series of lunchtime talks showcases Sydney's distinguished university teachers whose teaching has been recognized through a University or the Australian Office for Learning and Teaching (OLT) award. Bring your lunch, and find out what inspires them, what they do, why and how they do it, what evidence means to them, and why they believe teaching matters.

These talks are part of the Sydney Teaching Seminars.

The venue for this series is Teaching and Learning Seminar Room 250, Level 2 South, Fisher Library. You can also follow along on twitter #stsdialogues.

Upcoming events

Friday 27 March
1-2pm

Melanie Nguyen and Ruth Barcan

Dr Melanie Nguyen works in the Discipline of Behavioural & Social Sciences in Health, Faculty of Health Sciences. She was the recipient of a 2011 Faculty Early Career Teacher Award, and a Vice-Chancellor’s Award for Outstanding Teaching (Early Career) in 2013. In 2014, Mel was part of the team that received a Vice-Chancellor’s Award for Support of the Student Experience (for Belong@FHS: Peer Mentoring across the Faculty of Health Sciences).
Read more about Mel…

Associate Professor Ruth Barcan is Chair, Department of Gender and Cultural Studies in the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences. In 2011, she received the Faculty’s Excellence in Teaching (Design & Practice) Award, and in 2014, was one of three recipients of the Vice-Chancellors Award for Outstanding Teaching.
Read more about Ruth…

To register click here